Meet the Maker

Hi,
I'm Amy—the artist and heart behind Amy Rae Maker, a stationery brand rooted in joy, creativity, and connection. While I lead the creative vision, I'm far from a one-woman show. I'm grateful for the support of my husband, two kids, and a wonderful network of local businesses who help bring this dream to life.

My goal is simple: to create happy, artful paper goods that spark joy and make it easy to share meaningful moments. I believe in slowing down, celebrating the little things, and inspiring creativity—especially in the next generation.

A portion of proceeds goes back into local Manitoba schools in the form of art supplies, helping kids experience the magic of making.

Amy Rae Maker products can be found in shops across Canada and the U.S., and I'd love to see them reach even more hearts and homes. If you're interested in becoming a stockist, please reach out at
